Poindexter Seizes North Dakotan Advancing to Battle Robinson.

Offer Made to Put Them on the Free List-Other Sched-

WASHINGTON, June 1 .- Running forty-five minutes beyond the time set for quitting, the Senate brought its considerable disorder. Much of the after dinner session was devoted to dye schedule, which, as had been pre dicted, developed into one of the bitterest fights on the tariff measure.

The interchange between Senators imposts on dyes became more pointed as the evening session progressel and counter between Senator McCumber (Rep., N. D.), in charge of the tariff bill, and Senator Robinson (Dem., Ark.) apparently was narrowly averted.

Advancing to the center aisle to meet each other, the Senators found Senator Then Senator Poindexter (Rep. Wash.) moved across the chamber and took Senator McCumber by the shoulslated and for a moment they were

Senator Robinson promising at the request of Senator Curtis (Rep., Kan.) to vithdraw his motion for adjournment so that a recess might be taken.

The disagreement between Senators McCumber and Robinson arose over the question of the Senate quitting until tomorrow. Democratic Senators desired that the session be ended without a vote on the brick schedule, which was taken up after one vote on the dye duties, as some of them wanted to discuss it further. Senator McCumber said he thought a vote could be obtained tonight.

A point of no quorum was made, and after a roll call disclosed that only forty-four Senators were present, the Sergeant-at-Arms was directed to bring in absentees. The second roll call showed forty-five present, and after some discussion Senator Robinson moved to adjourn, declaring that unless Benator McCumber would agree that the Senate end its night session therewould be no more unanimous consent agreements for recesses from day to day.

After a five hour fight the Senate had approved committee amendments to the referee. Daniel J. Gleason, it was tariff bill proposing a duty of 50 per cent. ad valorem and 7 cents a pound on crude coal tar dye products. The vote was 37 to 20, three Republicans—Keyes, La Follette and Norris—opposing the amendment, and one Democrat—Kendrick—supporting it.

The Senate, after this one vote, turned its attention to the brick schedule. The committee withdrew its original proposition for a duty of 25 per cent. ad valorem on building bricks, which came under fire last week, and offered as a substitute that brick be placed on the free list, but with a proviso that such brick coming from a country imposing a duty on the American products should pay the same rate of duty as that imposed on brick from the United States. Senator McCumber, in charge of the bill, said Canada was the only country imposing a duty on American building bricks.

Many Interruptions.

The Speaker was subjected to a rapid fre interrption. Senator Wadsworth (N. Y). Republican, wanted to know what should have been done with the German patents. Senator King replied hey should have been held in trust until the end of the war, as was other enemresults of his inquired.

Specific rates proposed by the House and ranging from 50 cents per gross to 1 cent a pound remained unchanged.

House rates on cylinder, crown and sheet glass were reduced almost all along the line, Senate committee rates ranging from 1.38 cents a pound to 2½ cents a pound being accepted in place of the original House duties from 1% cents a pound to 4 cents a pound. The failure of the committee to propose a reduction of the 1½ cents a pound rate on glass not exceeding 150 square inches brought a protest from Senator Underwood of Alabama, the Democratic leads in the start of the start of the start of the start of the control of Alabama, the Democratic leads of the count of the start of the committee of the committee of the committee of the committee to propose a reduction of the 1½ cents a pound the plant measuring 8 feet at present, and under the rules could talk against it until a new Congress comes in next March.

Pointing out that window glass was a building material, Senator Underwood said the majority had followed the same policy with respect to this matter, and with others entering into home construction, that of increasing existing duties.

"There is nothing that could make this nation greater than to allow every man to own his own home, and when you pursue a deliberate policy as you do in this bill of raising the tax on food, of raising the tax on clothing and of raising the tax on material to build homes, you are pursuing a policy that is in direct contravention to the best interests of your Government."

Soon after the dye debate opened there was a sharp passage between Senators King and Frelinghuysen. Asserting that Senator Ring had questioned his motives, Senator Frelinghuysen declared he was defending the dye legislation not only on a political but also a particule basis and as a measure of national defense.
